

The Washington Student Oral Histories Project

www.wsohp.org

Dear Colleague,

We are pleased to announce that the final two articles in our report series Pathways to Dropping Out are now available on the Washington Student Oral Histories web site (www.wsohp.org) and at the direct report links below:

- Part Three: Tipping Points - summarizes findings from the project's initial study on "tipping points" associated with the final stage of the dropping out process.
- Part Four: Implications - synthesizes major themes from the entire study and discusses the practical implications of study findings for schools and communities interested in addressing the dropout issue.

All reports in the series, including a technical appendix, may be found at: <http://www.wsohp.org/project-reports--updates.html>

Contact Us: We welcome your feedback on the report series and on our blog. You can reach us through our web site or directly:

Deborah Feldman
Co-Director Research
(206) 356-9096
dfeld@seanet.com

Barbara Waxman
Co-Director Curriculum
(206) 356-1865
barbarawaxman@comcast.net

Antony Smith
Principal Investigator
(425) 352-5416
ansmith@uwb.edu

Has this update reached you in error? We apologize if this came to you in error. If you do not wish to receive future updates from the project, please let us know by emailing us at dfeld@seanet.com.